

LUBERRI

Year Founded: 1922

Region: Rioja Alavesa, Spain

Winemaker and Owner:
Florentino Martínez Monje

Known for: He made a name for himself and his estate by resurrecting the traditional style of semi-carbonic maceration of Rioja wine.

-Sustainable & Vegan-

A farmer at heart, Florentino was the original winemaker at Artadi before establishing his own winery in 1992. Florentino is very hands-on at the winery, participating on all aspects of production, but his true love is working in the vineyards. All the plots are farmed with minimal treatment of the soils and vines. Individual vineyard sites are fermented and vinified separately. By keeping yields low (around 34 to 45 hectoliters per hectare) Florentino extracts grapes with great concentration and flavor.

2022 Luberrri Orlegi, Rioja

20 Wines Under $20 – The New York Times 2022

95% Tempranillo and 5% Viura. Luberrri Orlegi is the reference point for traditional, lighter-bodied, fruit-forward wines of Rioja Alavesa. Orlegi is produced from two estate vineyards: Tempranillo from El Cuento at 415m and Viura from Cuatroencinas at 500m. Grape clusters are put into stainless steel tanks whole, without destemming or crushing. It undergoes a partial carbonic maceration;

the beginning of fermentation is intracellular, temperature-controlled at 24°C. This is followed by maceration on the skins for eight to ten days while native yeasts present on the grapes complete alcoholic fermentation. Orlegi rests in tank until bottling in January. The resulting wine is classic, fresh, and food-friendly. A delicious Tempranillo from Rioja for everyday drinking!

2018 Luberrri Biga, Rioja

What is Biga, you ask? Biga is the number two in Basque and the name of the second wine Luberrri founder Florentino Monje makes in his line, Luberrri Crianza. It also happens to be one of his most popular wines, a wine of which we have yet to find anyone who is not a fan. Luberrri Biga is complex and layered, fun, lively and simply delicious-to-drink wine made from the indigenous Tempranillo grape. Biga captures the spirit of the wines of Luberrri, Rioja wines to drink for pure pleasure at the table. Biga is made from two estate-owned Tempranillo vineyards located around the town of Elciego at 520m, grown in clay-calcareous soils in Rioja Alavesa. Fermented in stainless steel before being aged for 12 months in a combination of French and American oak barrels.
