

BARTER & TRADE

Winemaker Andrew Jones (Field Recordings, Wonderwall, Fableist) is the goods and he makes them too. We love everything he produces. The wines do not disappoint and are in fact better than most of the wines at this price point from Washington! Andrew has the touch! Barter & Trade is his first project outside of California. The grapes are grown under the Shadows of the Cascade Mountains and in the humble Ancient Lakes of Columbia Valley in Eastern Washington. This prime land bears exceptionally choice wine grapes, bursting with body and flavor but bearing more structure than California wines. Upon visiting this new land — and discovering the blossoming industry underfoot — Jones felt called to work with this soil. Why was this promised land not forefront in the minds of Americans? Determined to bring the bounty of Washington across the country, Jones struck up a deal with local winegrowers. You see, from its beginnings, Barter and Trade has hearkened back to the days of old; striking the perfect balance between Old World and New World, both in flavor and in business. It is, at its core, a nod to the classic practices of the wine industry, a world built on collaboration, friendship, favors, and alliances.

2023 Cabernet Sauvignon, Columbia Valley

100% Cabernet Sauvignon

Cooperage: New French Oak (50%), Seasoned French Oak (50%)

Nose: Fresh Blueberries, Chocolate, Sage

Palate: Black Currant, Baking Spices, Hint of Vanilla

Sustainable & Vegan!